LODGE TO TELL US OF UNSEEN WORLD

English Scientist Will Explain
How Near We Are to Invisible Realities.

NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—Sir Oliver Lodge, the world-famous scientist, will visit this country in January with the object of making a brief lecture tour. His lecture subjects will be "The Reality of the Unseen," "The Evidence for Survival," "The Destiny of Man," "The Ether of Space," "The Structure of an Atom," or Recent Discoveries in Physics.

In making this announcement today, Lee Keadick, the lecture manager, said: "Sir Oliver Lodge is coming to this country under my exclusive management, and is not to lecture under the auspices of the spiritualists or any other religious body. As some misconceptions on this point seem to have arisen it should be explained that Sir Oliver Lodge is not a spiritualist in the usual sense of the term, and does not regard his psychical investigations as having any connection whatever with religious questions. He has, in fact, dealt with psychical phenomena as he would deal with any other natural phenomena—solely from a scientific point of view."

"Sir Oliver Lodge will not confine his lectures to the various phases of psychical research. He has long been regarded as one of the world's greatest authorities on physical science, some of his discoveries having saved the way for many important inventions, including wireless telegraph. As already stated he is to lecture on the ether of space and the structure of an atom. Incidentally, he will tell of the stupendous changes that are certain to result when some means of obtaining and applying atomic force is revealed to the world."

"So great is the interest aroused by the impending visit of the distinguished scientist that the advanced bookings for his lectures have already reached an unusually large figure. Letters have been received from similar events in important cities in the United States and Canada inviting him to lecture, and assuring him of an enthusiastic reception. Owing to his numerous engagements in England, however, his time in this country will be necessarily limited, and with few exceptions his original lecture schedule will be strictly adhered to."

"Sir Oliver Lodge has been associated with the English Society for Psychical Research for many years, and is foremost among purely scientific investigators who have endeavored to supply a conclusive answer to those great questions of the ages—'After death what? Can the dead communicate with the living?' Having made a profound study of spirit phenomena, he has become convinced that human survival beyond the grave can be scientifically proved. So deeply has he been interested in this subject that some time ago he severed his official connection with the Birmingham university in order to devote all his time to psychical investigation."

IDAHO NATIONAL FORESTS EARN YEARLY $463,070

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The 19 national forests of Idaho earned $463,070 in fees during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1919, of which $5 per acre has been remitted to the state for distribution to roads and schools in counties in which the forests lie.

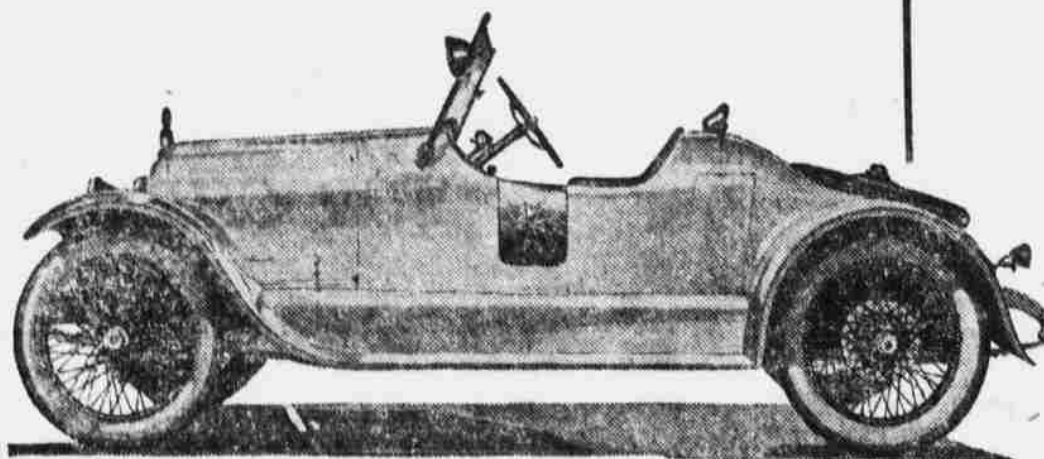

In the California district, including that state and a small part of Nevada, the forest service receipts for the quarter ended Sept. 30, have been $147,935 and in the district embracing Oregon, Washington and Alaska, $115,174. Receipts for the entire forest service for the quarter named were more than half a million dollars.

These receipts are free from rental permits for grazing, water power privileges, sites for hotels and similar buildings, etc.

ARKANSAS SEED TO STATE FARMERS

Special Meeting To Be Held in Little Rock to Promote New Ideal.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 17.—Arkansas grown seed for Arkansas farmers will be discussed at a special meeting of farmers, business men and state employees, who will meet in the Little Rock Chamber of Commerce building at 10:30 a. m., Dec. 18. The meeting has been called by James J. Ryan, of Kerr, president of the Arkansas Crop Improvement association, an organization which was formed at Little Rock last February during the meeting of the Arkansas Livestock association by 25 representative farmers all over the state. Twenty-nine prominent farmers, representative business men and state employees, who are interested and who can give material assistance in formulating a plan to aid the farmers in securing good seed, have been asked to attend the conference in Little Rock.

"We can do what Michigan and other states are doing with this proposition," said Mr. Ryan. "At the present time the Arkansas farmer has no assurance that his purchases of seed are good and the loss to the state each year from poor seed is enormous. The tendency of the farmers, seed men and all of us has been to wait for the other fellow to do something. Nothing has been done and it is time that we get together and standardize seed in order that we may stop this yearly waste."

"There is a distinct need for seed improvement of all field crops grown in Arkansas," says L. W. Osborn, head of the agronomy department of the University of Arkansas, who is secretary-treasurer of the association. "These are practically no farmers in the state who have been actively engaged in the commercial production of field crops."

The majority of seed used in Arkansas at the present time is "native" seed of no special variety. A great deal of this seed is from stock purchased in the Northern states within the last few years and lacks in soundness. Quite a large amount of seed planted is adapted native seed which would be quite satisfactory if a little more care were given to selection. Only a few farmers in the state have given careful attention to selecting seed through a period of several years, but many of them have developed strains which, if known, could well displace much of the seed used at the present time, is the opinion of Mr. Osborn.

The seed corn situation is cited as illustrative of the complexity and uncertainty of the Arkansas seed situation. Texas seed men supply a large quantity of seed to Southwest Arkansas, a little comes from Louisiana and Oklahoma and Memphis seed companies unload a mixture of Northern and Tennessee-grown seed on the East Arkansas markets. At the same time Arkansas seed men buy seed direct from Iowa, Illinois or Nebraska. The association will assist in selecting the better types, multiply them and grow Arkansas seed in Arkansas.

To Attend Conference.

The men who have been asked to attend the conference on Dec. 18 are: N. P. O'Neil, Hope, farmer; S. O. Savage, Parkdale, farmer; T. P. Fletcher, Lonoke, farmer; Conway Scott, Scott, farmer; P. C. Evans, Clarendon, farmer; Lee Cazort, Lamar, farmer; Dr. Giles Lucas, Van Buren, farmer; Dr. George L. Sands, Charleston, president of State Farmers' union; Dean Martin Nelson, Fayetteville, dean of the College of Agriculture; L. W. Osborn, Fayetteville, head of the agronomy department; College of Agriculture; W. C. Lasseter, Little Rock, director of the agricultural extension division; J. H. Tull, Little Rock, field agent in marketing, agricultural extension division; Herbert H. Bowden, editor of the Arkansas Homestead; E. E. Nowhouse, Little Rock, Arkansas Fertilizer company; H. M. Bennett, Little Rock, Lesser-Goldman Cotton company; B. C. Powell, Little Rock, Arkansas Bankers' association; Joe Lyon, Little Rock, Joe Lyon Machinery company; Alfred Kahn, Little Rock, Arkansas Cotton Seed Crushers' association; Jim G. Ferguson, Little Rock, state commissioner of agriculture; C. S. Bouton, Little Rock, bureau of crop estimates; G. G. Becker, Little Rock, state plant board; E. J. Bodman, Little Rock, vice-president Union Mercantile Trust company; E. S. Rodman, Little Rock, cashier Bankers' Trust company; Dr. R. M. Gow, Little Rock, state veterinarian; W. J. Harsfield, Washington, president of Arkansas Growers' association; J. E. Boyce, Pine Bluff, Cotton Belt Savings bank; J. L. Smith, Bauxite, secretary of Arkansas Sweet Potato Growers' exchange; John Eldridge, Gregory, farmer; Caughy Hayes, Little Rock, seed dealer.

FRAME HOUSES WILL STAND TWO CENTURIES

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 17.—Illustrations of two frame residences built in the seventeenth century in Massachusetts are shown in the October bulletin of "The Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities." One of these is the Pierce house at Dorchester, Mass., which is believed to have been built by Robert Pierce, who arrived in the "Mary and John" in 1630. This is one of the oldest houses in which the society is interested, and is still occupied and owned by the family.

The oldest portion of the Brown house at Watertown, Mass., was built by Abraham Brown, Jr., about 1653. This is considered a most interesting old house, being a one-room cottage of two stories and a garret, which has come down with amazingly few changes.

A Happy Family

BY DR. S. C. ROWERS.

A happy family is one that can sit down to the table with keen appetites and good cheer. Plenty of the out-of-doors and cleanliness, inside and outside of the body, will make for health, wealth and happiness. Your doctor will tell you that anything from a headache to the most serious illness may result from allowing food to ferment in the intestines. The first thing to do in case you feel mean, logy, dull, perhaps feverish, is to flush the liver and kidneys, drink plenty of water, and take a dose of castor oil, or, something better, made of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and long sold by almost every druggist as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. This may save you from a fit of sickness, remove the poisons from the system and give the tissues of the body a chance to build up and resist disease.

People are realizing more and more that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Urine acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs I would advise any one to get Anuric (anti-uric-acid) which is to be had nowadays for sixty cents, at almost any drug store.
